
Cyclone victims in Myanmar

Posted by Lori - 2008/05/06 13:11

A Cyclone has killed thousands in Myanmar, an area north of Thailand and south of Bangladesh. Pray for the families of those killed and missing and that the missing will be found. It is a tragedy, and sometimes we wonder why we continue to see an increase in the acts of nature taking so many lives--but prophesy states we will see more of this in the last days, which we certainly are in. But we do not have to fear, as our God does protect us and no matter what befalls us, it pales in comparison of the knowlege and understanding we have in that hope of glory. this life on earth is but a vapor, and the darkness we must endure will be all but forgotten in heaven.

Also, it is situations like this that most often bring people to the saving knowlege of God. Pray that through this tragedy, God's will can come forth and touch those who need him.

=====